

Dr. Kiyoshi Kurokawa

Special Advisor to the Cabinet on Science, Technology and Innovation

Chair of the Innovation 25 Strategy Council

Former President of Science Council of Japan

Biography

- March 1967 Graduated from the Graduate School of Medicine and Faculty of Medicine
The University of Tokyo
- 1969 Research Associate, Department of Biochemistry
University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine
- 1979 Professor of Medicine, Department of Medicine
UCLA (University of California at Los Angeles) School of Medicine
- 1989 Professor and Chairman, First Department of Medicine
University of Tokyo Faculty of Medicine
- 1996 Dean and Professor of Medicine, Tokai University School of Medicine
- 1997 Professor Emeritus, University of Tokyo
- 2003 President of the Science Council of Japan
- 2003 Member of Science and Technology Policy Committee, Cabinet Office (2006)
- 2004 Adjunct Professor, Research Center for Advanced Science and Technology of The University of Tokyo, Director, Institute of Medical Sciences of Tokai University
- 2004 Chair of the Board of Governors of the Okinawa Institute of Science and Technology
- 2005 Chairman of the Healthcare Policy Institute, Japan
- October 3, 2006 Special Advisor to the Cabinet
- November, 2006 Professor, National Graduate Institute for Policy Studies