

Prof. Masaru Yarime

Associate Professor, Department of Human and Engineered
Environmental Studies, Graduate School of Frontier Sciences
The University of Tokyo

Biography

- Ph.D. Economics and Policy Studies of Technical Change, University of Maastricht, The Netherlands, 2003
- M.S. Chemical Engineering, California Institute of Technology U.S.A. 1995
- B.S. Chemical Engineering, University of Tokyo, Japan, 1993

Professional Experience

- 2005–2006 Senior Research Fellow, National Institute of Science and Technology Policy (NISTEP),
Ministry of Education, Culture Sports, Science and Technology, Japan
- 2001–2005 Research Associate, Research Center for Advanced Science and Technology,
The University of Tokyo, Japan

Field of Study

Economics and Policy Studies of Technological Change, Science and Technology Policy, Innovation for Global Sustainability