

Dr. Toshimitsu Fujisawa and Prof. Seiichi Koshizuka, Koshizuka group, Shioya team won "Minister of Education Award" which is the highest in the "university venture awards 2014".

Researcher:

Dr. Toshimitsu Fujisawa (CEO & Co-Founder, Promotech Software, Inc.)

Prof. Seiichi Koshizuka (Department of Systems Innovations, School of Engineering, The University of Tokyo)

Award Name: "Minister of Education Award" in the "university venture awards 2014"

Award Date: September 2, 2014

Journal Title:

JST Journal of Industry-Academia-Government Collaboration

(October 2014)

Nikkei Science [Japanese edition of Scientific American]

(December 2014)

Contents:

Promotech Software, Inc. won "Minister of Education Award" which is the highest in the "university venture awards 2014".

Of the university-launched venture companies by utilizing the results of universities, the university-launched venture companies that excellent activity in the future is expected is honored, and companies and universities contributed to its growth are also honored.

