

Online Workshop in English 研究者のための+αシリーズ

Seminar/Workshop Series
for Researcher Professional Development

Vol.25 Feb 26th, Mon 15:00~18:00

Mastering Networking Skills: Practical Strategies for Global Research Impact

Are you tired of hearing that networking is essential for your career success? Don't be! Networking is a powerful tool that can help you enable productive collaborations and boost research impact. But let's face it, building relationships across different cultures and disciplines is not easy. You might feel intimidated by a lack of guidance and interpersonal skills. Where do you even begin? That's where this session comes in! Join us for 3-hours interactive session to discover valuable insights into best practices for effective networking, equipping you to thrive as a researcher, team leader, and valuable member of society.

Trainer

Irina Filonova, Ph.D.
the phd whisperer CEO
JST Associate Fellow

Dr. Irina Filonova, a professional coach and trainer, specializes in global PhD skill development. With over 10 years of experience in the US and Japan, she empowers scientists from all over the world to overcome communication, workplace, and career challenges.

Learning Objectives

- Identify and address common networking challenges in a global research context,
- Discover a practical framework to build and nurture professional relationships,
- Develop a clear and confident self-introduction to engage various audiences, with feedback.

Who can apply

The workshops are open to all early career researchers or anybody who is interested in expanding your professional network. Please feel free to apply!

Registration

https://form2.jst.go.jp/s/2023_rpd25
The workshop capacity is limited to 16-20 participants for optimal interaction. The lottery results will be informed on February 20th.

CONTACT : sekai-info@jst.go.jp