

David Locke

Executive Director, ANA Avatar XPRIZE, XPRIZE

As Executive Director of Prize Operations, David Locke brings nearly two decades of Operations and Management experience with a focus on producing large-scale, international competitions and events that drive technological breakthroughs and positive social impact. Over the course of his ten plus years at XPRIZE, David has orchestrated an eclectic slate of competitions with topics ranging from robotics, Moon exploration (Google Lunar XPRIZE) and human safety and has awarded more than $75 Million US dollars.

David currently serves as the Prize Lead for the ANA Avatar XPRIZE, a $10 million, four-year global competition focused on the development of a robotic Avatar System that will transport a human's senses, actions, and presence to a remote location in real time.
