

IEEE COUNCIL ON SUPERCONDUCTIVITY AWARD RECIPIENTS 2017

MAX SWERDLOW AWARD FOR SUSTAINED SERVICE TO THE APPLIED SUPERCONDUCTIVITY COMMUNITY

KENICHI SATO

Japan Science and Technology Agency

For sustained service to the applied superconductivity community, in particular:

- for developing magnet-grade HTS wires and their applications to power cables, magnets, and motors (1988-2016),
- for serving as Secretary of IEC/TC90 (1989-2013), Program Officer of JST (2009-present) and Co-Editor of Superconductivity News Forum (2014-present), and
- for serving as President of the Cryogenics and Superconductivity Society of Japan (2012-2016), and a Board Member of ICMC (2001-present).