Abstract

The monthly journal "JOHO KANRI" or "Journal of Information Processing and Management" has captured topics on science and technology information from time to time for 50 years since its inception. In fiscal year 2007, we celebrated the 50th anniversary and summarized articles for 50 years. In closing the history of 60 years, we will introduce a part of the articles over the last ten years. Through recent change in the information distribution field in very interests, by reviewing through articles, we would like to look over the changes over the last 10 years.
